DESCRIPTION

This course is appropriate for nurses new to obstetrics (OB) and experienced OB nurses preparing for certification exam. Rebecca will review key clinical care issues from admission through delivery using examples for decision making and best case clinical choice selection.

OBJECTIVES

- Demonstrate knowledge of biological, physiological, psychological, and sociocultural factors that influence the pregnant family, developing fetus and impact care
- Identify alterations in the biological, physiological, psychological, and sociocultural status of the mother, fetus and implications for the newborn
- Identify patient's actual or potential problems/needs, utilizing information received from the patient, the family, appropriate records and other health team members
- Develop a comprehensive plan for individualized nursing care, including diagnostic, therapeutic and patient education components
- Evaluate interventions and modify the plan of care
- Apply current standards of practice, research findings and ethical/legal principles in providing nursing care to the normal high risk antepartal, intrapartal and postpartal family
